

UNITS OF STUDY DESCRIPTIONS

UNDERGRADUATE LEVEL 7100-7300 SERIES

The credit point system used by St Andrew's Greek Orthodox Theological College is in accordance with Sydney College of Divinity academic regulations. Each unit of study offered at St Andrew's is a multiple of 9 credit points and is assigned a six-character unit code. E.g. B7120A or T9684A.

The first letter of a code indicates a discipline or sub-discipline:

A = Humanities	L = Worship and Liturgy
B = Biblical Studies	P = Pastoral Theology
C = Pastoral Counselling	S = Christian Spirituality
E = Christian Ethics	T = Theology
H = Church History

The first digit indicates the Australian Qualifications Framework (AQF) level at which the unit of study is taught:

7	Diploma of Christian Studies	Undergraduate
	Associate Degree of Christian Thought and Practice	Undergraduate
	Bachelor of Theology	Undergraduate
8	Bachelor of Theology (Honours)	Postgraduate
	Graduate Certificate	Postgraduate
	Graduate Diploma	Postgraduate
9	Masters	Postgraduate

The second digit indicates the level within the course:

Undergraduate Level	1 Foundational units
	2 Intermediate units
	3 Specialised units
Postgraduate Level	5 Foundational units
	6 Specialised units

The third and fourth digits indicate the content of the unit, according to the coding within sub-disciplines as set out in the Sydney College of Divinity Policies and Procedures Manual.

The final letter indicates the member institution within the Sydney College of Divinity where the unit is delivered. The letter designating St Andrew's Greek Orthodox Theological College is 'A'.

Unit of Study	X7295A Studies in [Topic]
Unit Weighting	9 credit points
Type of Unit	Generic (Teaching)
Academic Staff	Accredited Member of Faculty

Curriculum Objectives

This course unit provides students with an opportunity to consolidate introductory level skills and build on them in an area (the topic) within a discipline or subdiscipline that is not available elsewhere in the curriculum. The particular topic might include: an examination of contemporary themes or current issues in the discipline; exploration of developments in research and theory; a consideration of the implications of developments in research and theory to a broad range of issues of current concern to Christian life, ministry or theology; or an opportunity to learn new theories and skills and to apply them in practical or simulated circumstances.

Learning Outcomes

At the end of this unit students will be able to:

1. Demonstrate an intermediate level of knowledge of the topic selected for consideration
2. Analyse a broad range of primary and secondary literature dealing with the topic
3. Evaluate the subject area using the methodologies appropriate to the discipline
4. Show competence in practical skills and/or descriptive, critical and analytic skills with respect to the topic and apply to diverse contexts
5. Apply the results of their study to enrich Christian life, ministry, or theology

Content

The topic and the content related to this unit is chosen by the lecturer and approved by the Faculty Board within the scope of Sydney College of Divinity policy in the chosen discipline.

Assessment Profile

1. Review and evaluate writings in the topic studied in this unit (e.g. critical review, annotated bibliography)
2. Demonstrate a solid understanding of the topic or competence in practical skills related to the topic (e.g. essay, practical demonstration)
3. Analyse the key implications of their study for Christian life, ministry, or theology (e.g. seminar, class presentation)

Unit of Study	X7391A Research Project
Unit Weighting	9 credit points
Type of Unit	Generic (Research)
Prerequisites	36 credit points in the chosen discipline
Academic Staff	Accredited Member of Faculty

Curriculum Objectives

This course unit builds on the theological background, capacity and interests of a student and enables her or him to pursue broad research, often of a survey nature, into an area or topic within a discipline or across disciplines. This research cannot usually be done within the strictures of individual coursework units or the focused study of a particular topic.

Learning Outcomes

At the end of this unit students will be able to:

1. demonstrate broad knowledge of the area chosen within the disciplines being studied
2. demonstrate undergraduate level skills of researching within a discipline and across disciplines where applicable
3. critically evaluate the topic under consideration using the methodologies of the subject area/s
4. integrate the topic being studied into a wider theological framework
5. evaluate the pertinent theological, ministerial and social implications of the topic

Advanced students must learn to study special-interest topics independently according to a valid method of research and analysis.

Content

This course unit permits students to research a topic of their own choosing in consultation with the lecturer.

Assessment Profile

The assessment can take a range of forms in keeping with the nature and scope of the research: annotated bibliographies, presentations, essays, reports, reflection papers, etc. Students should develop and describe the assessments (minimum of two) in collaboration with the lecturer at the outset of the project.

Unit of Study	X7393A Independent Guided Study
Unit Weighting	9 credit points
Type of Unit	Generic (Research)
Prerequisites	36 credit points in the chosen discipline
Academic Staff	Accredited Member of Faculty

Curriculum Objectives

This course unit enables students with initiative and creativity to pursue ideas and areas of interest in a subject area. It affords the student an opportunity to develop independent research and study skills.

Learning Outcomes

At the end of this unit students will be able to:

1. identify a question to be posed or a topic to be investigated in the particular subject area,
2. describe a suitable method for resolving the question or for researching the topic,
3. outline a working bibliography for the area of their research,
4. show an informed competence in descriptive, critical and analytic skills with respect to the topic of their research,
5. produce a report (or reports) that is clearly expressed and well argued.

Content

This course unit permits students to research a topic of their own choosing in consultation with the lecturer.

Learning Activities

Learning activities might include library seminars, problem-based learning, student presentations, online tutorials and webinars, critical analysis and comment on draft materials by the student and peers, brainstorming, webbing (mind maps)

Assessment Profile

1. Defend choice of topic, methodology, and working bibliography (e.g. student presentation or report)
2. Engage critically and clearly with texts and arguments (e.g. essay)
3. Defend one's own evaluation of a contested issue

Unit of Study	X7395A Issues in [Topic]
Unit Weighting	9 credit points
Type of Unit	Generic (Teaching)
Academic Staff	Accredited Member of Faculty

Curriculum Objectives

This course unit provides students with an opportunity to focus at some depth on an area (the [Topic] of the unit) within a discipline or sub discipline that is not available elsewhere in the curriculum. The particular topic might include: an examination of contemporary themes or current issues in the discipline; exploration of developments in research and theory; a consideration of the implications of developments in research and theory to a broad range of issues of current concern to Christian life, ministry or theology; an opportunity to learn new theories and skills and to apply them in practical or simulated circumstances.

Learning Outcomes

At the end of this unit students will be able to:

1. Identify for themselves a question to be posed or a topic to be investigated in the particular subject area
2. Demonstrate a good knowledge of the area chosen for consideration
3. Analyse in some depth a range of primary and secondary literature dealing with the issue
4. Evaluate the issue using the methodologies appropriate to the subject area
5. Apply the results of their study to enrich Christian life and ministry

Content

The topic of interest is arranged by a member of the teaching staff and approved by the Faculty Board.

Teaching Methods

Teaching methods might include group projects, seminars, tutorials, lectures, student presentations, online tutorials.

Assessment Profile

1. Review and critique recent writings in the area studied in this unit (e.g. critical review, annotated bibliography)
2. Demonstrate a good understanding of the issue studied in this unit (e.g. essay)
3. Evaluate in some depth the key implications of the study for Christian life and ministry (e.g. seminar, class presentation)
