

Prior to holding the Regius Chair in Humanity at the University of Aberdeen, Fr John Behr spent twenty-five years teaching at St Vladimir's Orthodox Theological Seminary in New York, where he also served as Dean for a decade. He has taught at other schools in the US, such as Harvard Divinity and Fordham University, and as the Metropolitan Kallistos Chair of Orthodox Theology at the Vrije Universiteit of Amsterdam.

Dr Mario Baghos is Lecturer in Theology (Patristics) and Church History. His research interests include patristic eschatology, representations of Orthodox Christian saints, and the role of religion (specifically Orthodox Christianity) in cities via art and architecture. He is also the Chief Publishing Officer of St Andrew's Orthodox Press.

Accreditation

St Andrew's Greek Orthodox Theological College is accredited through the Sydney College of Divinity (SCD), a Higher Education Provider owned by an ecumenical consortium of private colleges, which are its Member Institutions.

The Sydney College of Divinity is listed on the National Register of Higher Education Providers as a Higher Education Provider with Self-Accrediting Authority. It is approved by the Commonwealth for FEE-HELP to eligible students.

St Andrew's offers undergraduate and postgraduate units of study towards SCD courses of study.

Cross-Institutional Study

Students studying at university or any recognised tertiary institution may be eligible for cross-institutional enrolment whereby units completed through St Andrew's (Sydney College of Divinity) may be credited towards their own undergraduate or postgraduate awards, subject to the approval of their own Faculty Department.

Guest Lecturer:

The Very Revd Professor John Behr
School of Divinity, History and Philosophy
University of Aberdeen, UK

Unit Coordinator & Lecturer:

Dr Mario Baghos

Semester 2, 2020

Unit Objective

This undergraduate unit (AQF Level 7) engages the thought and methods of the early Church Fathers, investigating the major trends in the Christian tradition to the early fifth century. It assists students to understand the connection between historical circumstances, the spiritual life and the formulation of Christian theology.

Learning Outcomes

1. Appreciate the historical and ecclesial contexts of various trends in early patristic tradition
2. Display an awareness of the main themes pertaining to early patristic tradition
3. Utilise primary and secondary sources in the analysis of patristic themes
4. Analyse themes pertaining to the early patristic tradition within their immediate and distant literary and historical contexts
5. Assess the relevance of patristic tradition to contemporary scholarship and the Christian experience

Enrolment Options

This unit will be delivered by weekly Wednesday lectures via Zoom, 5:00pm start time (Sydney time, AEST) until 8:00pm, beginning July 29.

Students are strongly encouraged to login and participate in real time (synchronous learning). But a student may also enroll and access the video recordings of the weekly Zoom classes and review these in their own time (asynchronous learning).
